

Victor L. Perez, M.D.

Director, Ocular Surface Center
Walter G. Ross Distinguished Chair in Ophthalmic Research
Professor of Ophthalmology, Microbiology and Immunology
University of Miami Miller School of Medicine
Bascom Palmer Eye Institute

Victor L. Perez, MD received his bachelor degree in biology from the Washington University in St. Louis and medical doctorate from the University of Puerto Rico School of Medicine in San Juan, Puerto Rico. He performed his residency training at the Massachusetts Eye & Ear Infirmary at the Harvard Medical School in Boston, Massachusetts. Dr. Perez then completed a Cornea and External Diseases (Dr. Dimitri Azar) and Uveitis Fellowship (Dr. Stephen Foster) at the Massachusetts Eye & Ear Infirmary at the Harvard Medical School. In addition to this, he also trained as an Immunologist Scientist Research Fellow in Ocular Immunology at Schepens Eye Research Institute at the Harvard Medical School (Dr. JW Streilein) and a did a Research Fellowship for Immunology at the Department of Pathology, Brigham & Women's Hospital in Boston, Massachusetts (Dr. Abul K Abbas).

Dr. Perez is a board certified ophthalmologist by the American Board of Ophthalmology. He is the Director of the Ocular Surface Center and is the Walter G. Ross Distinguished Chair in Ophthalmic Research Programs of the Bascom Palmer Eye Institute.